COOLIDGE FAVORS TAX CUT SCHEME Council Agrees

Aides Expect President To Indorse Plan

Taxation Has Become Principal Subject Of Cloakroom Discussion

EXECUTIVE VIEWS COMMENT

Announcement Of Views On Reduction Awaits Message To Congress

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge is strongly inclined toward the Mellon tax reduction program and is expected by some of his advisers to endorse it in his message to congress. Such an endorsement in the opinion of administration officials, would be sufficient to sweep aside such opposition as there has been among some Republican leaders to a tax revision at the coming session.

With the gathering here of senators and representatives of the majority party, taxation has become one of the principal subjects of cloak room discussion. Although some of the leaders still insist that to open up tax schedules would invite endless controversy and lead nowhere, most of them appear to believe that legislative consideration of the Mellon and other proposals is certain.

COOLIDGE WATCHES
Since announcement of Mr. Mellon's plan to cut the nation's tax burden to $363,000,000, President Coolidge has been carefully watching comment and has received a large number of letters and telegrams endorsing the proposal. Announcement of the President's position, however, is expected to await his message to congress. He had a long talk Sunday with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican senate leader, and it is understood to have been made to him the argument that have been made to the White House in favor of the Mellon program.

STRESEMANN BACKS RETURNED PRINCE

German Premier Says Country Will Never Give Up Friedrich Wilhelm

By Associated Press
Berlin—Chancellor Stresemann, in the course of a long defense of his policy to his party executive Sunday evening, said with reference to the former crown prince's return: "We are threatened with further penalties on account of the return of the crown prince. I hold it, however, better to suffer new French brutalities than to bear the reproach that he who fought in the great war should remain exiled abroad, far from his family."

Cheers greeted the chancellor's statement. "All this burden must be borne by us," he continued, "in addition to our political burden, we shall probably be faced with a demand for the surrender of the crown prince and of course will reject that demand."

(Cheers)

"Nevertheless these impending additional political difficulties will remain a grave weight upon us and any increase of them through the creation of a dictatorship and an anti-constitutional government would be unbearable."

Youth Killed Putting Up Storm Sash

Clifford Halls, 21, was fatally injured at his home 447 Locust-st. shortly after 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon when he fell from the second story of the house to a cement sidewalk while putting up storm windows. The young man died at the hospital about 3:35 in the afternoon. No one saw him fall and it is not known whether he slipped from a ledge around the edge of the porch or fell from a ladder. He was found by his sister, Cecile, who went to look for him when he did not call for mere windows to put up.

His skull was fractured in two places. Clifford Halls was a graduate of St. Norbert college, DePere, and was a sophomore at Lawrence college. He was a member of the Holy Name society of St. Mary church. Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Halls, and two sisters, Cecile and Eleanor.

Funeral services will be held at 8:50 Tuesday morning with solemn requiem mass in St. Mary church. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery.

AWAIT VERDICT AS WALTON CASE DRAWS TO CLOSE

Impeachment Carried On Despite Absence Of Defendant From Chamber

By Associated Press
Oklahoma City—The impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton, was rapidly drawing to a close Monday with a verdict probable Monday afternoon or Tuesday. With the defense table deserted, as a result of the executive's unexpected withdrawal from the hearing on Saturday, prosecution counsel Monday wound up the loose ends of their case and introduced testimony of a few witnesses.

When the prosecution rests, a brief summary of the evidence introduced in support of the 16 charges which will have been covered is to be presented to the court, and a vote on acquittal or conviction is expected at once.

The charge that Governor Walton suspended the right of habeas corpus during the period of martial law by Oklahoma was presented briefly by the prosecution. An executive proclamation suspending the writ was read to the court with the announcement "that's all there is to it."

A passage from the state constitution providing that "the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall never be suspended by the authorities of this state," was then quoted.

STATE UNIVERSITY WILLED $300,000

Madison—The University of Wisconsin will receive probably $300,000 under terms of the will of Torger Thompson, wealthy Deerfield farmer, which was made public here. The university will receive its share of the estate valued at more than $500,000 at the death of Mrs. Thompson. St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., will receive $40,000 for assisting students who attend the college.

The board of missions of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America is to receive the income from $10,000 annually for mission work. The funds going to the state university are to be used in promotion of the study of Scandinavian languages.

"Soaking The Wealthy" Scars Capital Away From Productive Enterprise

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Four hundred millions of dollars are being lost in taxes by the United States government through the legal evasions practiced by taxpayers with incomes ranging from $50,000 and upward.

Fully one billion dollars in productive incomes has disappeared in the last five years due to the fact that people with money have not felt it worth while to engage in enterprises that would yield that amount of money because half of it would have to be given up in taxes.

Instead, the wealthy people of America have turned to what is known as tax exempt securities and there is no way to make that illegal except by the passage of a constitutional amendment, and that may take a generation to get the necessary three quarters of the state of the Union in order to make it effective.

But tax exempt securities average about 4 per cent in the interest they yield to the investor. If the latter could get 5 per cent or higher on his money he would naturally adopt another form of investment. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has devised a plan to increase the net income of the country and at the same time increase the amount of revenue from taxation on higher incomes. His idea is that if the surtaxes were lowered then a wealthy man could afford to lend his money for productive enterprises that offer 5 per cent. If an investor were assured that he did not have to give the government half of his eight per cent and take additional risks besides he would invest in productive enterprises. Mr. Mellon's theory is that the business condition of the United States is being restricted by the barriers set up by the government itself in adopting taxes that defeat their object.

CAPITAL SCARED OFF
The trouble is, of course, that the so called radical element in congress imagines it is popular to "soak the wealthy." This would be hard to refute, as a piece of practical politics, were it not for the fact that "soaking"

JAPAN MAY GIVE ALL MEN BALLOT

Minister Of Home Affairs Proposed Measure Extending Franchise

By Associated Press
Tokyo—The new manhood suffrage bill sponsored by Viscount Goto, minister of home affairs, is to be introduced during the coming sessions of the diet. An extraordinary session of the diet has been called for Dec. 10, and an ordinary session for Dec. 25. Viscount Goto induced Premier Yamamoto to form a committee to frame the suffrage bill which is one of the most popular measures yet proposed. The bill is causing much political furor and the suffrage, largely in its attitude toward the contemplated legislation.

The suffrage measure, if adopted, will give the vote to every male Japanese above 20 years of age without any property qualifications so long as he has lived six months in the constituency in which he desires to cast his ballot. Under the present law only male subjects over 25 years of age, who have lived for more than a year in a district and who pay taxes of not less than three yen a year, may vote. The new bill also makes all voters eligible for election to parliament.

OSHKOSH GIRL, 9, IS BADLY BURNED

Margaret Harnitz May Recover From Injuries Inflicted By Flames

By Associated Press
Oshkosh—Margaret Harnitz, aged 9 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harnitz, 11 Rush-st., was severely burned about the upper part of her body early Monday morning when her clothes caught fire from a lighter candle. Her parents had both gone from home to their places of employment, and the child had occasion to go to a closet under the stairs. She carried a lighted candle and in some manner her own clothing took fire. The child ran screaming to the home of a neighbor, George Schaefer, who extinguished the blaze by wrapping the little girl in a blanket. The city ambulance was called and child taken to a hospital. About one half of her body was burned, her chest, back and arms being involved. She may recover.

DELANEY'S PLEA FOR BAIL DENIED

By Associated Press
Washington—Thomas A. The court also announced that the case would be advanced for hearing on Dec. 3.

Billy Sunday's Sons In Comedy Of Errors

Los Angeles—A whiff of illuminating gas struck the nostrils of a chauffeur as he entered the home of George M. Sunday, rector, and son of the evangelist, William A. Sunday. Sunday and in the dramatic developments which followed, two brothers escaped the role of victim in an alleged comedy of errors growing out of a police report labeled, "Attempted suicide." George M. Sunday, according to a report to the police, was found in a gas-filled room at his home with a rubber tube leading from a nearby jet into his mouth. It was an "attempted suicide," the report stated, and the "instrument used" was a "gas pipe hose."

Newspapermen who hurried to the Sunday residence, however, found Sunday if not entirely recovered from the alleged inhalation of gas, at least lively enough to denounce the police report as gravely inaccurate. As proof of this inaccuracy, he pointed to his younger brother, William A. Sunday, Jr., reclining upon a couch and looking ill, and anxious to admit that it was his illness—a touch of pneumonia which had caused all the excitement.

In the end, however, George Sunday issued an announcement that the police report was "all right"—an announcement which sent both newspapermen and police away satisfied.

FLOODS FOLLOW MANILA TYPHOON

Luzon And Visayan Islands Swept By Torrential Rains After Storm

Manila—A typhoon from the Pacific ocean has swept over Luzon and Visayas Islands. Rail and telegraph communication have been entirely suspended. Manila is partially under water as a result of the torrential downpour, boats replacing motor cars in several of the streets. The storm also caused considerable damage to crops. The rainfall during the past 48 hours has totaled more than 15 inches. The downpour was accompanied by a high wind. The storm had abated Sunday night. Telegraph wires were torn down by the wind and rain and roads were washed out in many sections of the island. A number of ships which were scheduled to sail were kept in port here by the storm.

FAMOUS BREEDER OF HOGS SUICIDES

Janesville—Chester Phillips, 62, nationally known breeder of Duroc-Jersey hogs, once prominent as a breeder of draft horses, secretary of Walworth-on Fair association, was found dead in his car standing in his garage at Delavan Monday morning. In his hand was grasped a revolver, and a bullet in his head told the story of suicide to the officers who later made an examination. He left no letters or anything to indicate a reason. Recent sales reverses are said by friends to have been worrying him.

Landings gears will be restored for the flight across Asia Minor by way of China, French Indo-China, Siam, Burma, India, the Persian Gulf, Turkey and Europe to Hull, England. There provisions again will be made and the expedition will fly across the Faroe islands to Iceland and Greenland, Cape Farewell and Hamilton Inlet on the Labrador coast, returning to Washington by way of Canada.

Established air lines will be followed in the United States and Japan and between India and London, and other sections of the route will be mapped out by officers who will precede the flyers, traveling on land.

ARMY AIRMEN PLAN FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

Project Awaits Only Permission Of Foreign Governments Concerned

Washington—Completion of plans for an around-the-world cruise by American army aviators awaits only the formal permission of the governments concerned for the expedition to cross their territories. The project already has the approval of Secretary Weeks and the state department has asked the foreign governments to sanction the tentative itinerary submitted by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service.

Four officers and four enlisted men have been selected to make the flight, which is expected to demonstrate the feasibility of aerial communication between continents and provide valuable technical information. Four or five Douglas world-rulers which are being constructed at Santa Monica, Calif., will be used.

The trip as planned will start at Washington next March and will consume more than six months, the longest non-stop flight being 700 miles. From Washington the explorators will proceed to Seattle where the planes will be equipped with outposts for the flight along the coast of British Columbia, Alaska, the Aleutian Islands and Japan. Council Agrees On Provisional German Policy

Magnus Won't "Scab" On Job At Washington

By Associated Press
Chicago—Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota told the Chicago Federation of Labor Sunday that he expects to fight when he takes his seat in congress. It is to be his purpose, he said, to help carry through a constructive program of legislation, fair to all interests. To emphasize his position, Senator Johnson told the meeting that two months after he reached this country he joined a labor organization and that two months afterwards a strike was called. "Some of the men 'scabbed' on the job," he said. "I didn't. And I will not 'scab' on the job when I get to Washington."

VETS BUREAU PROBE ENTERS FINAL STAGE

Mortimer Charges Forbes Promised Contract To Associate Firm

By Associated Press
Washington—Senate investigation of the Veterans Bureau entered Monday upon its final phase. With the testimony of Charles R. Forbes, the former director and the re-examination of Elias H. Mortimer, behind it, the committee of inquiry was determined to resume the constructive side of its work—gathering of information which will be of aid in formulating relief legislation for congress.

One or two more witnesses in behalf of Forbes remain to be heard, he hoped that the testimony relating to the domestic differences of the principals in the inquiry has been concluded.

Only one outstanding new charge was presented by Mortimer when he resumed the stand Saturday night for further examination by counsel for the committee. He testified that he, Forbes, Charles E. Cramer, former general counsel of the bureau who committed suicide last March, and J. W. Thompson, senior member of the Chicago contracting firm of Thompson and Black, entered into an arrangement whereby the Pontiac Construction Co. of Detroit, Mich., a subsidiary of the Thompson and Black Co., was to get the contract for construction of the foundation for the Northampton, Mass., veterans' hospital.

WINNEBAGO ISSUES BONDS FOR HIGHWAY

By Associated Press
Oshkosh—In deciding on its road program for 1924, the Winnebago Board of Supervisors now in annual session here, voted to spend about $256,000 on highway improvements next season. A large part of this amount will be raised by bond issue. The major work decided upon included the completion of the four mile gap in the Oshkosh-Ripon concrete road near Flisk, Wis., and extension of the Neenah-Winchester road as far as $195,000 will go. It was also voted to gravel the Oshkosh-Ripon road to Wausau, Wis., and have Third-St. Meads, which is part of state highway 17. The board also decided to make a strong effort to keep the main concrete roads in the county free from snow the coming winter and it was voted to allow $18,000 for the purchase of a powerful tractor for clearing snow roads.

HUNTING ACCIDENT COSTS LIFE OF BIG SUMACO MAN

Green Bay—John Moes, 34, farmer living near Big Sumaco was instantly killed about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the .22 calibre rifle he was carrying through a patch of bushes on a squirrel hunt became caught on a twig and was discharged, the bullet entered the base of the skull behind the right ear.

Representatives Of Allied Powers Reach In Principle

EXPECT FRENCH APPROVAL

Paris And Brussels Governments Consider Military Control Measures

By Associated Press
Paris—An agreement in principle was reached by representatives of the allies assembled in the council of ambassadors here Monday and a break between France and Great Britain on the question of the attitude to be adopted toward Germany was averted at least temporarily.

It was announced after the conference that the ambassadors had agreed in principle on the measures to be taken toward the resumption of allied military control in Germany. The agreement was subject to the approval of the French and Belgian cabinets, at meetings called for the early afternoon.

The French cabinet was expected to approve the formula decided upon by the ambassadors. The Belgian ambassador got into communication with Brussels and was understood to be asking for his government's decision on the new agreement.

The understanding was that the agreement called for sending Germany a protest against the lack of facilities she was furnishing for the work of the military control mission, but without mention of what action the allies might take in case Germany failed to give the required assurances of protection for the mission.

FRANCE SEEKS UNITY

London—A semi-official statement given out here asserted that France's leaders would neglect nothing to maintain the solid front of the allies, but that they were too conscious of their responsibilities to sacrifice the security of the country. Premier Poincare made this point clear in his speech at Neuilly Sunday when he said: "Our security is just as important to us as reparations," and when speaking of Germany's "shameless violations of the treaty," he concluded: "Penalties are impressive. We shall inflict them if we do not obtain satisfaction."

France's threat to impose further penalties on Germany if the Reich does not agree to protect the international mission of military control is regarded here as putting Great Britain in a serious dilemma.

Premier Poincare's speech has been interpreted in some quarters as equivalent to a declaration that France intends to stay in the Ruhr permanently until she is "firmly protected against fresh possibilities of aggression," she may be there forever.

COURT HOLDS ALIEN LAND LAWS VALID

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Two more decisions upholding efforts to curtail the land rights of aliens in California and Washington were returned Monday by the supreme court.

In one decision the court held that under the alien land laws of the two states, recently held valid by the highest tribunals aliens ineligible to citizenship cannot own stock in a land owning corporation.

In the other it was decided that aliens who cannot own or lease land are likewise barred from entering into contracts with land holders for a division of crops.

GRID LOSERS FETE WINNERS AT ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET

Football Develops Sterling Qualities Of Manhood, Speakers Tell Youngsters

More than 200 Appleton high school students, happy despite defeat by East Green Bay in football, were present at the annual football banquet in the high school gymnasium Saturday evening. During the banquet, which was served in splendid style by members of the Girls Athletic association, each long table vied with the other in making the occasion one of merriment, keeping the gymnasium ringing with cheers and laughter. The room was decorated with the combined colors of the East Green Bay and Appleton high schools and the Green Bay team members were guests of their opponents on the field.

The glory of the winning loser was played up by each of the coaches and by Lee C. Rasey, principal of the school. Mr. Rasey in his speech which was the last for which they were preparing in school. He commended the value of athletics which develops an enthusiasm that even a defeat does not destroy.

PRIZE FIGHTING QUALITIES. Coach David Wilson of Appleton high school and Coach C. E. Wiley of East Green Bay dwelled on the spirit of "fight" which a boy must have in order to go into a football game and come out a winner as a man whether his team has scored or not. They both spoke highly of the kindly feeling of their two schools toward each other.

Captain Clyde Bunker of Green Bay told of the realization that he has when he goes out on the field that if he fights the other man is no better than he nor he better than the other man. He said that football men do not fear each other nearly so much as they fear the coaches who may train their men either to be good sports or to make football a truly dangerous game. Arnold Hillman of the Appleton team made a very short and snappy speech on why he went out for football by stating simply that he had gone out for the sport, there was in it.

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH 40 YEARS OLD NEXT SUNDAY

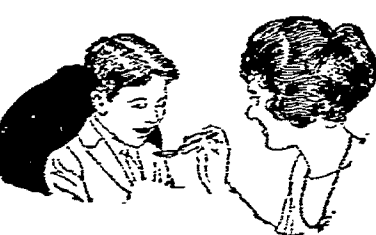

Congregation Was Formed In 1883 When Members Left St. Paul Church

The fortieth anniversary of the founding of Zion Lutheran church will be celebrated next Sunday with special services. Up until 1883 there was only one Lutheran church in Appleton, St. Paul Lutheran. What is known as Zion Lutheran church was an outgrowth of St. Paul church. First steps toward founding the new body were taken early in the spring of 1883, but were not perfected until the middle of the same year.

A clipping from the "Crescent" published at this time says: "During the past week the organization of Zion Lutheran church has been perfected. 47 members signing the roll. The meeting was held in Baptist church, where regular services will hereafter be, and officers duly elected. Henry Wiegand was elected president; Fred Kretschmann, vice president; H. Rademacher, secretary; C. Pasch, treasurer; K. Lillig and Gust Rubbert, collectors. The spiritual interest of the new congregation will be looked after by the Rev. K. Hammingshaus, late of Vandine and from the looks of things the young shoot bids fair to become a thrifty tree. The cause of separation is a purely doctrinal one, the pastor of the old church having subscribed to certain tenets that part of the congregation could not. The new church will belong to the synod of Ohio."

The present pastor of Zion Lutheran church is the Rev. Theodore Martin, who has served in this capacity since June 15, 1920. He feels that the prophecy made in the clipping of the paper of 1883 has been more than fulfilled, the church numbering among the largest congregations in the city.

Two men narrowly escaped drowning when their Essex touring car overturned and pinned them underneath in a creek at Greenville early Sunday evening. The accident occurred just south of the corner of the Ferdinand Meyer home in the village of Greenville. The automobile, traveling at a high rate of speed, broke through the guard rails of a culvert and plunged into the creek which contained about two feet of water. The car was considerably damaged and taken to a Greenville garage for repairs. The men registered Sunday evening at an Appleton hotel under the names of C. E. Johnson and J. W. Jones both of Fond du Lac. The automobile, it is said, bore a Nevada license number. The men were on their way to Fond du Lac. They had been connected with a carnival company.

NEED LEADERSHIP FOR PROGRESS, DR. GANFIELD DECLARES

Carroll College Head Preaches
Last Sermon At Church
Homecoming

The necessity of capable leadership to instill the value of social service into the hearts of the American people was the thought expressed by President W. A. Ganfield of Carroll college, who preached the closing sermon of the Memorial Presbyterian homecoming service Sunday.

Truth, said the speaker, is irrefragable, intolerant, and a seed which must be implanted within a person's soul. It never compromises. Thus, he said, we must grow uniformly in nature—the morals must keep pace with intellectual growth.

The time was ripe now, Dr. Ganfield said, for instilling the ideals of the Master into people's minds. In many conventions and gatherings of men of all walks of life the one idea expressed was the need of social service, the relation of commercial and social problems. It was evident, he said, that the aim of all institutions was to forward interest that would bring happiness to the masses. Churches everywhere were said to be taking up the object of rendering real service in uplifting communities. But the progress in physical development must not outrun that of the mental or moral side, or discontent will result.

NEED LEADERSHIP

The American nation apparently is too weak to control wisely the economic resources thrust upon it and that this is the reason America is unhappy, it was pointed out. To accomplish true progress there must be leadership, a unity of ideals and good will toward fellow men. The speaker declared it was the fault of our educational institutions if this program was not carried out in the public schools.

President Ganfield's talk was only one of the many features that marked homecoming Sunday. Special services were held in the church all day, beginning at 9:45, when the Rev. John McCoy, editor of the Kaukauna Times, spoke at a joint session of men's, women's and home department classes. This was followed by the 11 o'clock service at which the sermon was preached by the Rev. Charles A. Adams, a former elder of Presbyterian church. At 2 o'clock a musical and social hour at which wives of elders, deacons and trustees were hostesses, was held. Letters of greeting from former pastors and members were read at this time. Christian Endeavor society had a large attendance at its reunion. Many old members of the organization were present. The choir rendered special music for all services, assisted by soloists.

INCREASE IN HOGS ON WISCONSIN FARMS

Number of stock hogs on farms in Wisconsin on Sept. 1, 1923, was 3 per cent greater than on the same date, 1922, the United States department of agriculture has reported, following a special survey. The survey shows that a gain of three-tenths of one per cent was made in the United States as a whole.

The increase in the corn belt states is placed at 4.3 percent. The indicated increase in these states agrees closely with the 5.8 per cent increase indicated in the June pig survey of the department. It is pointed out.

Increases in the corn belt states are: Ohio, two percent; Indiana, one per cent; Illinois, six percent; Iowa, four percent; Missouri, 7 percent; Nebraska, four percent; Kansas, 7 percent and South Dakota, eight percent. The largest percentage increase is shown in Nevada and Idaho where the increase is estimated at 20 percent. Twenty states show decreases, the largest being in New Mexico where the decrease is estimated at 30 percent.

DELAY SELECTION OF STATE FISH HATCHERY

Because a host of additional locations have been added to those already proposed for the new state fish hatcheries it will be necessary to postpone selection of the sites until all can be inspected. Elmer S. Hall of the conservation commission said today. About 50 offers of sites have come to the conservation commission from towns and villages desiring the two new fish hatcheries appropriated by the 1923 legislature. Hall with B. O. Webster of the commission has already inspected about 30 of these sites in an extensive tour of the state. Within a few days he will start on a second tour of inspection, after which the locations for the fish hatcheries will be selected.

INCREASE RATE ON U. S. THRIFT NOTES

Appleton Still Ranks Third In Wisconsin In Number Of Certificate Sales

An incentive for the greater purchase of United States treasury savings is in the announcement received at the Appleton postoffice that the certificates will be sold at a more attractive figure. Certificates will after Dec. 1 be sold at $20, $50 and $500 maturing in five years at $25, $500 and $1,000 respectively.

The prices heretofore have been $20.50, $52, and $520. The new certificates will bear interest at 4 1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually if held until maturity, or 3 1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually if redeemed before the date of maturity. The old rates were 4 and 3 per cent. The new certificates actually will yield an income of 3 per cent, a figure that will appeal to the small investor.

Appleton postoffice is now leading all cities in Wisconsin except Milwaukee and Oshkosh in the amount of certificates sold this year. An effort will be made to pass the $100,000 sales mark before the beginning of the next year. Holders of war savings stamps which mature Jan. 1 will be urged to reinvest in treasury savings certificates.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE AND AMUSEMENTS

Announcement is made that the Lord's Day Alliance is to support bills in the New York state legislature to prohibit baseball, theatrical productions and all commercialized amusements on Sunday. Two principal reasons are given to justify the movement. One is that commercialized amusements compel persons identified with them to work seven days in the week. The other is that motion picture shows are enticing the public away from the churches.

The fact that the picture shows are crowded, while some churches are not, is not a sufficient argument for closing the photoplay theaters. It would seem to be a better argument for keeping the picture shows open, so that the people might have these places to which to go for entertainment, and thus, by approving a liberal policy, appeal to their spiritual sense to attend the churches, too, either in the morning or evening, or in both the morning and evening.

If a large number of people do not go to church on Sunday, their remissness cannot be charged to baseball, or the play, or any public amusement. There must be something wrong either with the churches, collectively, or with the people, in so far as their spiritual training is concerned, if the churches are not well attended.

Why do not more persons go to church? Why are the churches not more attractive to the people? These are the vital questions. Prohibiting Sunday amusement would not fill the churches.

The churches cannot expect to win or deserve the good will of the public by a severe policy and harsh methods. They cannot expect to make the people good by law or force them to go to church by law. The churches must, on the contrary, follow a broad, kindly, paternal policy and change the point of view and the habits of the people by spiritual education and persuasion.

An amusement is not necessarily a desecration of Sunday because it is commercialized, or because, like baseball or football, it is noisy. In fact, a commercialized amusement, like baseball or a good play, may tend to better the observance of Sunday and increase church attendance.

Let the people have clean amusements on Sunday and also induce them to go to church. We should not give the impression that religion is sad, and sour, and strict. Let us understand that religion is happiness, as well as goodness.

GERMANY UNDER THE MICROSCOPE

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt states that German kultur of the republican brand is manifested by the question "When do we eat?" Miss Sarah Wambaugh, formerly of the Secretariat of the League of Nations, observes that wealth is indicated in Germany by the quantity of clothes which a person owns. Mussolini thinks the German people miss the goose-step and the great I-am.

Mussolini does not express his thoughts in just those words, but we have reduced his rhetoric to the kind which he would use were he still an editor and not a mere dictator, who may rush out through the back door of a palace at any minute, as unannounced callers arrive at the main entrance. An autocrat, he is competent to judge as to Germany's needs.

Analyze the German republic. First, the industrialists. Second, the monarchists. Third, the republicans. Fourth, the socialists. Fifth, the professional and confirmed militarists. Sixth, the would-be dictators. Seventh, the brokers of marks. Eighth, the academic political economists. Ninth, those who want something to eat and some new clothes.

What is your conclusion as to this social, political and economic jumble? Everybody in Germany thinks, favorably or unfavorably, of the great I-am and the goosestep. The German people were so used to both of them that they have not been able to adapt themselves to the easy ways of republicanism. Had the government leaders been more forceful and more resourceful they could have simulated discipline, and the people would not have missed the voice under the jeweled crown or the piercing eyes under the silvered helmet.

PRUSSIAN AND UNPRUSSIAN GERMANY

Establishment of the Rhineland as an autonomous state would be the same as forming that part of Germany lying to the west of the Rhine into a separate government or nation. If this succeeds the next move probably will be the withdrawal of Bavaria from the German republic, which will then be almost exclusively Prussian.

The Rhineland may remain a republic, but there is a possibility that monarchism may be restored in both Prussian Germany and Lowland Germany. In the latter Bavaria is the largest and strongest state. Bavaria and some of her neighbors in the south were in hearty sympathy with the Hohenzollern rule and Prussian supremacy, and they are likely to feel independent and confident at this time, when Prussianism is weakened, as is republicanism by a surfeit of industrialism.

The Ludendorff-Hitler fiasco was not indicative of Bavarian sentiment. Vavari is not socialist. Hitler is an impractical and unreasonable dreamer. Republicanism or monarchism is not so much the question in Bavaria as anti-Prussianism. The German troubles of today, as were Germany and the world's troubles in the great war, are consequences of Bismarck's mistake in building up the pan-German empire. The united Germany which Bismarck instituted was a political scheme primarily and a racial plan secondarily; he reversed the law of nature to aggrandize Prussia and her king.

Though a waterway is a natural boundary, France may be making a similar blunder in fixing the Rhine as Germany's western boundary. It may be a blunder to segregate the Ruhr district, which is east of the Rhine, from Prussia. Europe can have peace if standing armies are reduced to nothing and militarism and hate are scrapped, but there is a big army in Russia, and that army is the stability of sovietism. Next to militarism, the worst plague is socialism.

FEDERAL RESERVE OR PRIVATE RESERVE

Appearing as a witness before the congressional joint committee, Mr. Festus J. Wade, of St. Louis, one of the nation's leading bankers, sounded a warning against branch banking. With $500,000,000 he could control $20,000,000 of banking resources, he stated, and this through branch banking great combinations of private capital could dominate the nation's money.

The Federal Reserve system is a private institution, but it is completely under federal supervision and control. One of the principal objects of the government in organizing it was to prevent a few large groups from consolidating money power.

State banks, finding it to be more profitable to deal with large correspondent banks and receive interest on their daily balances, and being able to secure loans from these establishments, and having charter authority to carry on transactions prohibited to national banks, have declined to join the Federal Reserve system. In some states the state banks operate branches.

The question which the congressional joint committee is investigating is of great importance. The federal and state governments are at variance on banking questions. Their differences may determine whether the Federal Reserve system is to survive, or whether the old, private-reserve system will return, or whether the old system will return in conjunction with a Federal Reserve system as a convenience for the large banks.

SCIENTIFIC NEGLECT

The great antiseptic era of modern medicine and surgery terminated about twenty years ago. The end of the antiseptic era was the beginning of the present aseptic era.

Sepsis means poisoning of the system by disease-producing germs; antiseptic means the attempt to prevent sepsis by means of agents or conditions which discourage the multiplication or growth of such germs in the system. Asepsis means the exclusion of such germs from the wound and the system.

It requires some knowledge and a certain degree of technical skill to insure an aseptic environment. It is the ideal environment for all healing processes, from the simplest cut or scratch to the gravest wound or ulcer. The aseptic era has brought about achievements which were scarcely possible in the antiseptic era of surgery. And the aseptic era has revolutionized sanitary practice in communities where the aseptic era has arrived. There are still many communities back in the antiseptic era of sanitary practice and a fever back in the dark ages of squalor quarantine and pest-house isolation.

In every community there are plenty of households where the most extravagant and futile "antiseptic precautions" or "rituals" are practiced, such as putting smelly chemicals into the water to scrub the floors or burning noxious stuff in a room to "purify" or "fumigate" the environment.

It calls for a modesty of knowledge to gain the great advantage of asepsis, and that which has not been deceived will not be afraid of the dark. Only the ignorant are superstitious. The treatment meted to persons with leprosy in various parts of the America and to victims of smallpox in many backward towns is due to panic.

Hands off—that is the first principle of scientific neglect which is the most efficient method of treating wounds. Don't touch. How difficult this simple injunction is to obey every doctor who has at his disposal first aid knowledge and a first aid kit is sure to disobey unless watched very instant until the wound is so dressed as to prevent easy access. Keeping a wound from contamination is like trying to keep a child from eating candy.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. West's Baby Booklet

Kindly give me the Washington address where one may get the pamphlet or booklet on Infant Care.—Mrs. E. O. L.

Answer—Send 10 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., and ask for a copy of the labor department children's bureau booklet by Mrs. Max West on "Infant Care."

Mr. Stocker's Recovery From Tuberculosis
Will you please send me the address of the place where I can get a booklet entitled "How I Cured Myself of Tuberculosis."—G. O. M.

Answer—Perhaps you mean a reprint of an article which J. E. Stocker contributed to the Journal of the Outdoor Life, entitled "How I Won the Battle With Tuberculosis in My Own Home." This may be obtained by sending 5 cents to the Tuberculosis Society of Detroit and Wayne, 215 Jefferson Ave., Detroit, Mich. Residents of Wayne County may get the pamphlet free. It is very dangerous to imagine that you can "cure" yourself. You've got to have medical attendance if you mean to get well.

Chafing

A good healing prescription for chafing. My skin is thin as paper and causes me to be miserable most of the time.—Mrs. M. D.

Answer—Gently cleanse the affected surface with soap and warm water; rinse and dry carefully then apply this dusting powder:

Powdered zinc oxide 4 drams
Powdered camphor 1 dram
Cornstarch 1 ounce

Of course such a powder must be impalpable, that is, so no particle can be felt between the fingers.

The Credulous Sex

I accumulated a great deal of overweight after the birth of my children. I am at present taking steam bath baths. About how much steam bath should I use for each bath and how long must I stay in the bath?—J. S.

Answer—Reduction comes harder than that. (Copyright, National Newspaper, Service.)

A. The Bureau of Buildings says that for nine months ending September 30, plans were filed for 2,594 tenement buildings. In the preceding twelve months only 2,205 tenement plans were filed. While the increase may not be adequate for relief in the situation, the trend is for the better.

Q. How do cats make a purring sound?
A. L. H.

A. Purring is highly characteristic of the cat tribe, though probably not confined to it.

Q. How is oak treated to produce the fumed oak finish?
D. P. H.

A. Fumed oak is wood that has been darkened by the fumes from liquid ammonia. The ammonia does not touch the oak, but the gas that comes from it acts in such a manner upon the tannic acid in the wood that it is browned so deeply that a shaving or two may be taken off without removing the color.

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

Art Collectors Excited By Fake Statue Scandal

From Le Petit Journal, Paris

Are the statues of the Louvre in Paris truly ancient? Is there no doubt as to their authenticity? Or have some of them been "restored" so much that they are actually new works of art and merely imitations of the ancient works?

These questions arose when it was discovered that the Louvre museum owned two Roman statues which had been put together from worthless fragments found in Italy and sold as "restored," ancient statues. The senate intervened and organized a commission which now is to examine all such cases in which the antiquity of pieces of art is dubious.

Not only the museum authorities in France but private persons as well are interested in the problem of how far ancient works of art may be properly restored.

M. Jonas, president of the antiquaries' union in France, has given an answer to this question.

"I regard this Louvre statue scandal very much indeed," M. Jonas declared. "All of our customers, French as well as foreign, have now a right to lose their confidence in the antiquaries of France."

"Would you, then, completely ban all restoration work?" M. Jonas was asked.

"By no means. It is often indispensable to restore an old sculpture or painting a little in order to preserve it. But there is a wide gap between restoration and reconstruction. Reconstruction or imitation are fraudulent if they assume the name of restoration. By the way, I do not understand how connoisseurs could be so easily deceived as to take gross imitation for restoration."

At these words, M. Jonas took a charming porcelain parrot of Saxon manufacture from a cupboard and said:

"Look, this little piece is slightly restored. The junctions of broken parts have been veiled with a transparent paste. This paste you can feel when you touch the porcelain. Restorations of stone statues are done with a similar paste. It is very easy to find where broken parts are joined."

"In any case, the restoration of a piece of art should not exceed 10 per cent. Above this limit it would not be restoration but an illegitimate substitution of the modern for the ancient."

$200,000,000 Lost Each Year Through Rats

The rat is the worst animal pest in the world.

It carries bubonic plague and many other diseases fatal to man and has been responsible for more untimely deaths among human beings than all the wars of history.

In the United States rats and mice each year destroy crops and other property valued at over $200,000,000.

This destruction is equivalent to the cost of maintaining the military establishment of this country for six months.

The Department of Agriculture has issued a free booklet on how to fight this destructive pest. Our Washington Information Bureau will be glad to secure a copy of this valuable booklet for any reader who fills out and mails the coupon below. Enclose two cents in stamps for return postage.

FUTILE TO TRY TO LEGISLATE 'KICK' BACK INTO BOOZE

Dr. Minahan Tells Forum Audience Prohibition Amendment Is Here To Stay

"Kick" in their liquor is all the advocates of a modification of the Volstead act want despite the other reasons they might advance and this is impossible to obtain without violating the eighteenth amendment to the constitution. Dr. R. E. Minahan of Green Bay, told an audience of about 800 people at the meeting of the Peoples Forum at Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening.

The speaker declared that the prohibition amendment is here to stay, and that insomuch as it bans intoxicating liquor, the desire of the people to return to liquor of higher alcoholic content cannot be achieved, because no law can be passed that will be upheld by the courts.

Dr. Minahan scored those who would bring beer back to pay the soldier bonus, pointed out many fallacies in the argument that the "vets" and declared that the people themselves are responsible for lax enforcement of liquor laws. The element turns out en masse to vote and the dregs do not, and public officials therefore cater to the voting crowd. For this reason also wet officials appoint men of their caliber to carry on the dry enforcement.

David S. Rose, former mayor of Milwaukee, was to have been the speaker of the evening, pointing out the reasons why the Volstead act should be amended, but due to sickness he was unable to come. Next Sunday's program therefore was substituted and Dr. Minahan appeared to present arguments against amending the prohibition law. J. P. Frank was chairman of the meeting, singing was led by Dean Carl J. Waterman and the invocation was offered by Dr. W. S. Taylor.

CAN'T REGULATE IT

During the discussion which followed the address, Dr. Minahan told of his attempts for four years while mayor of Green Bay to regulate the liquor traffic but declared he found it impossible to do so. Regulation is just as impossible now without abolishing the business altogether, he said, as the state of Mississippi did in prohibiting the manufacture or sale of any beverages made from malt.

"The suggestion has been made that we ought to have beer back so as to pay the bonus to the soldiers through the revenue it would make possible," declared the doctor. "We should pay the bonus to the soldiers, we can pay it and we will, but we ought to pay it out of our pockets, taking the money from where we ought to get it, not trying it as tribute on the souls of this and future generations."

There is a more serious question than that of whether we should say yes or no to some particular form of beverage, he said. It is the question of whether a nation physically well developed and morally sound will not in time destroy itself if its people can have liquor to drink in any quantity. Take any nation with no drinkers or coopers and suddenly run it wide open. Even those who favor a wide open nation will admit that at the end of one year death, disease and crippled people will be found as a result of the drinking. Each year it increases until it becomes a burden.

EUROPE PAYS PENALTY

People do not drink to excess in the old country because they haven't the means. However, right now in England 26,000,000 people work to support 9,000,000 who are incapacitated by booze. France, a drunken nation because it worships at the shrine of Bacchus can't pay its debt to United States and in Germany children are starving for lack of milk at two and a half cents a quart while hundreds of thousands of gallons of beer are sold daily at seven cents a litre. America is called upon to help these children, the speaker said, and asked whether this country was considered a corruption.

Dr. Minahan then took up the Volstead act, declaring that the nation is better off than before even if it might have accomplished nothing more than abolishing the old saloon. He then went into the reasons why people wanted beer and wine of more than the one-half per cent alcoholic content provided in the Volstead act.

Speaking from the medical standpoint, he said alcohol is no good for the stomach, never was good for the treatment of disease and never will be. In fact, he remarked, it has been found of all the thousands of liquor prescriptions issued by doctors practically none were for sick people and those who were well got all of it. There are 23 states where doctors are not allowed to prescribe liquor for people sick or well, and that out of 150,000 physicians 49,000 were in these states and less than 25,000 of the remainder asked permits to prescribe liquor.

The Volstead act could not be modified to make homes happy, he said, because drunkards don't make homes. Neither could it be the means of raising moral standards, or increasing the strength of the law.

WANT INTOXICATION

"Then why do they want it modified?" asked the speaker. "They give all the above reasons, but I know why, although they never told me. They want it back for the kick in it. They want it because it is intoxicating. No matter if congress would declare five or ten per cent alcoholic content was not intoxicating, drinkers would become as drunk as ever. Should such a law be upheld? I don't believe the percentage can be lowered, because the eighteenth amendment prohibits all intoxicating liquor."

The Volstead law is harsh because that is what is needed to accomplish the purpose, Dr. Minahan told of

U. S. Points To Hantschel As Example Of Yank Pluck

Newspapers throughout the central area in which the United States Veterans bureau is functioning are carrying publicity on the perseverance of John E. Hantschel, county clerk of Outagamie-co, who lost a leg at Chateau Thierry but did not allow this handicap to deter his future or destroy his confidence in himself.

After being wounded in July, 1918, while serving with the Rainbow division at Chateau Thierry, he was confined for a year and a half to a hospital. But during his confinement he did not moan over a dark future, instead he spent the days planning the time when he would be well and in a position to start life over again. He was so handicapped that he could not resume his pre-war occupation as a shipping clerk. Therefore, immediately after his release from the hospital he applied to the United States Veterans bureau and was given a course in cost accounting.

As a result of his vocational training under direction of the Veterans bureau, he was, upon completion of his course, able to secure employment as an accountant. Last fall he was elected county clerk of Outagamie-co on the ticket of a party that has been practically impotent here for years.

Hantschel, who is a member of the American Legion Oney Johnston post and secretary of the Rainbow World War veterans chapter here, was in 1921 selected as the representative of the American Legion department of Wisconsin to attend the burial of the unknown soldier at Washington. He is married and has two children.

In a letter written to the Veterans bureau he says: "I am very candid in stating that I honestly feel that the course of study the government made possible through the Veterans bureau has been largely instrumental in improving my earning capacity and giving me the greater degree of efficiency in larger and more pleasant fields of employment."

ON THE SCREEN

FAMOUS CHARACTERS BROUGHT TO SCREEN Abe Potash and Morris Perlmutter

Without a doubt those names are more common throughout the entire world than those of any person living or dead. They are the brain-creations of Montague Glass, the lawyer-author, and from the beginning of their appearance on the magazine page they have grown in popularity to such an extent that their fame is now international.

These famous clerk and suit partners started their careers as the central figures of a series of short stories which appeared in a prominent magazine. It was only a few months before their vague had spread so rapidly that thousands upon thousands of persons bought the periodical solely for the purpose of reading what Abe and Morris had been doing.

From there it was but a step to the speaking stage, where for years the roles of the partners have been portrayed by Barney Bernard and Alexander Carr. It was one of the biggest money-makers in the history of the stage.

Now it has been made into a motion picture by Samuel Goldwyn, under the direction of Clarence Badger and it will be the feature of the first half of this week at the Elite theater. Bernard and Carr play their original roles in the screen version, with Vera Gordon appearing as co-star. Other screen luminaries in this First National picture are Martha Mansfield, Hope Sutherland, Ben Lyon, De Sica Moors, Lee Kohlmar, Edward Durand and Jerry Devine.

CAMERON OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED

The story of "Cameron of the Royal Mounted" concerns the adventures of a young man who is forced to leave college in Scotland and go to Canada.

NO INCREASE IN FARM LAND VALUES

Three-fourths Of Badger Farm Lands Is Valueless, Nordman Declares

There is no noticeable trend toward higher prices for farm lands in Wisconsin, Edward Nordman, Madison, state commissioner of markets said recently.

"Prices for farm lands will increase only when people look to farming, then and then only will the farmer be able to capitalize his lands," Mr. Nordman declared.

"The peak of high prices for farm lands as well as for everything else, was reached in 1920, and since that time farm land has declined in value. However, the setback is only temporary and I can not say when farm land will be on the ascent again."

"Just now farm products are selling at a low figure, but when the farmer receives better prices for his products then land will be more valuable because it will cause the people to look to farming."

"Three-fourths of the farms in Wisconsin have no value, the lands won't sell for any more than the improvements made by the farmer are worth. Where land is not good, the farmer has gone to the expense and great pains to make the farm better, he will find that the actual value has not increased, but that the increased valuation is due to the improvements."

"In the prairie states where few improvements to the land are necessary, land is high. It is true that the more a farmer improves his property, the land will decrease proportionately in value.

"The result of the high land prices is only too evident. It is certain that the farmer will not settle on land when it reaches the peak of high prices; instead he will pick out marginal or sub-marginal lands and improve them. It is equally true that if prices are not inflated he will select the best lands."

None of a Million Losers Were Our Investors

Investment bankers report a million American men and women each year lose $700,000,000 in bad investments. Folks ought not to gamble with their savings, but it seems a vast number of them will do it.

"Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company 7% cumulative preferred shares, now being sold with the State's approval, to finance growth of the business, won't interest those who wish to gamble. These shares are being bought by thousands of men and women who are content to get a reasonable business income and to get it regularly, from a permanent, prosperous, steadily growing, State regulated basic industry.

During its twenty-seven years in business, Milwaukee Electric has paid every obligation in full, with interest in full, on the due date. It has paid cash dividends on its preferred shares every three months for the last twenty-three years. It has paid cash dividends averaging 8% a year on its common shares, every year for the last twenty years. Nobody that has ever bought the Company's bonds or notes, and held them to maturity, has ever lost a penny on them, either principal or interest. Nobody that has bought its preferred shares has ever failed, since the first preferred shares were sold twenty-three years ago, to get regular cash dividends on them at the rates called for on the stock certificates.

Dividends on the 7% cumulative preferred shares now being sold direct to investors through the offices of Milwaukee Electric and its associated Companies in Wisconsin, are paid by checks mailed to shareholders on December 1, March 1, June 1 and September 1, every year. These preferred dividends must be paid, in full, every year before the common shareholders, who operate the business, can get any dividend on their shares. Shares now on sale cost $100 each, payable all cash or $5 down and $5 a month per share. Either way, buyers get 7% on every dollar invested, from the start.

A good many Wisconsin men and women who used to lose money in speculations are now gradually acquiring substantial holdings in this big business, and making sure of regular cash income from their investments.

We will be glad to have you come in and talk it over with us, or to send a salesman to call on you, or to mail you a Circular with full details. Mail orders filled by registered letter.

Ruffles Her Hobby; Now She's Rich

Girl Of 24 Now Earns $50.000 a Year Doing Work She Loved When Child

New York — Dreams of childhood are making $50,000 a year for a 24-year-old girl.

They are making her one of the country's most successful business women with a salary that the president of the country was glad to get 15 years ago.

Yes, Miss Carolyn Nunder isn't quite satisfied.

She feels that she isn't getting ahead fast enough.

"That, I suppose," she says, smiling, "is the importance of youth. But it's on youth that success begins."

The dream that she had when two are young are the ones to which she should do when we are old. They show where our natural talents lie before we have been warped by educators and dictated to by our elders.

In Miss Nunder's childhood these dreams were of ruffles.

And it has been with ruffles that she has made her success.

"When I was a youngster," she says, "I had a no-descript china doll. Part of its nose had been bumped off and one eye had vanished completely, owing to too many devoted washings. But I loved that doll and tried to make up for its deformities by dressing it prettily. I would tuck up its clothes with ruffles and soon my doll was known as the best dressed doll in the neighborhood."

Then a few years went by and she said Carolyn was too old to play with dolls. So she started making ruffles for herself. And soon she had the reputation of being the best dressed girl among her friends.

When she was 20 her older sister became ill and there was danger that her younger sister would have to be taken out of school. Carolyn decided that she was going to help the family out of its difficulties.

But how?

"The answer came in a flash," she says. "Ruffles."

"I began making clothes for other persons. It was hard going at first. Sometimes I was trying to make seams meet and sometimes I was trying to make ends meet."

Business picked up. Her styles became popular.

Now the little establishment of "Carolyn Nunder, Modiste" on one of the Forties just off Fifth Avenue is a humming place with 15 helpers who are busy all year 'round.

And each is learning by heart their employer's rules for success:

"Follow your dreams of childhood."

"Create."

"Do the things you love to do."

SEPARATE SLEEVES

One may now purchase very ornamental sleeve sleeves that transform the sleeveless frock into one of the popular long-sleeved models.

HANKIES, TOO

The latest in handkerchiefs is a square of chiffon or linen with stripes of black and white either forming the border or the whole expanse.

MOLESKIN HATS

Moleskin hats are made on very modish lines and are appropriate with a tailleur as well as a moleskin coat.

PLENTY OF ROOM

Envelope purses grow in size and are frequently a foot in length. Fancy monograms in gold or silver, set in brilliant, frequently adorn them.

BACK AGAIN

Beaded overbores have come back into fashion's favor with something like a rush. Chiffon and velvet are the popular materials for such adornment.

LEATHER TRIMMING

The newest sport suits have much leather trimming about the hem or the pockets and are frequently sold with leather hose to match.

STAGE AND STREET

A stunning stage costume recently seen consisted of a black velvet gown on straight lines with a white ermine cape lined with black velvet.

BIG BOWS AND SKIRTS

While this is a season of soft creases and subtle drapery, occasionally one comes upon very tall, wide bows and skirts of soft creases.

Avoid Being Wall Flower By Brushing Up On Knowledge Of Dancing

(This is the first of a series of nine articles which the Post-Crescent will give its readers on this page concerning correct dancing and ballroom etiquette, written by an authority on this subject.—Editor.)

BY ARTHUR MURRAY
Director, National Institute of Social Dancing

The gentleman places himself in the position of asking for the favor when he asks the lady to dance. At the end of the dance he thanks her and makes some complimentary remark to the effect that he enjoyed the dance. Perhaps the most commonly used form of asking for a dance is to say "May I have the pleasure of a dance?" or "May I have the next dance?" It is poor form to say "Have you the next dance?" And then of a negative answer is given, to ask for the dance. Often a girl does not like to admit that her dances are not taken and this question is not at all pleasant.

A young woman always precedes her escort when entering a ballroom. If accompanied by a chaperon, a young woman should follow the older lady. She pays her respects to the hostess and then moves away, making room for other guests.

RETURN TO CHAPERON

When accompanied by a chaperon, a young woman may return to her side after each dance if she wishes, particularly if the number of acquaintances is small or if she has no dancing partner. However, if a number of her dances are sought, she need not return to her chaperon unless she wishes, though it is courteous to return at intervals.

It is not good form to decline a dance unless the young woman is ill or is not dancing. If she declines a dance, then she should not dance any more during the evening. It would, of course, be rude to refuse a dance with one man and then accept an invitation from another.

Nor is it in good taste to sit out a dance, or frequent dances, or, if a young woman should also refrain from dancing too much to her time to any one man, even by fiance. The gracious and popular girl dances with each partner that asks for a dance. Impartiality is much better taste than favoritism.

MUST FEED LADIES
It is the duty of the gentleman to serve the ladies and see that they are supplied with everything they want from the supper room.

A woman does not help herself in the supper room but depends upon her escort and the servants to supply her wants.

When a dance is over, a lady may stroll with her partner through the drawing rooms or accept a glass of punch or go into the supper room. If she wishes to be released from the company of her companion, she may ask him to take her to her chaperon, or to join a group of friends.

Needless to say, a gentleman never leaves a lady standing in the middle of the floor, but escorts her back to her chaperon or friends. The man does not take the girl's arm when walking in the ballroom. He may make a graceful escape from dull or uncongenial companionship by thanking her for the pleasure she has given him and stating that he must find the young lady with whom he has the next dance.

NO RESERVATIONS
Programs have practically become obsolete, so that a girl does not reserve dances so far in advance as formerly. The popular habit of "cutting in" almost prevents her from reserving even one entire dance for a partner, especially if she is popular. In the "no-break" dance, the gentleman may break during the encore.

A departing guest always seeks out the hostess and expresses pleasure for a pleasant evening. However, if one departs early and the hostess is engaged, he may properly leave her without disturbing her.

After dancing with a girl, if a young man wishes to seek another partner, he should leave his first partner with friends or the chaperon and seek another gentleman to dance the next dance with his original partner. He can leave his partner by explaining that he wishes to hunt a friend whom he is anxious to meet.

Mr. Murray discusses "Success and Dancing" in his next article.

Button-Hole Role For Fair Voter

Heart-to-heart Talk Is Woman's Best Way To Work In Politics, Says Leader

New York — In the capacity of "button-holer" women will help elect the next president of the United States.

That doesn't mean that they will sit at home and sew buttons on the pearl gray vests in which their husbands will make stump speeches or march in parades.

Not at all.

Mrs. Charles D. Hirst, executive secretary of the School of Democracy of New York City, explains it thus:

"When Mrs. Jones meets Mrs. Smith, she will get an affectionate but firm hold on the latter's new Chinese beads and drawing dice, will remark confidentially, 'My dear, just what do you think of the tariff issue?'"

"The chances are that Mrs. Smith hasn't thought at all. Whereupon, Mrs. Jones explains just how her party and her candidate will bring about quite the nicest tariff the nation ever has had."

It is as "button-holers" or in personal heart-to-heart talks that women can do their most effective work in politics, Mrs. Hirst thinks. Women, ambitious for political activity should get into training for such political salesmanship, she points out.

"Not all women can mount a soap box effectively and hold a crowd spellbound," says Mrs. Hirst. "But everyone can lean over the back of a neighbor, 'won't you vote for So-and-So?' That's much better than saying, 'Did you hear how late Mrs. So-and-So's husband got in last night?'"

"This is the work that the men ward workers have performed so effectively in elections. They have been the real factors in winning political contests. Women will have to organize and train for this kind of work if they expect to get anywhere politically."

There are two essentials for a good political "button-holer," says Mrs. Hirst.

First, knowledge of the subject. Women demand good intelligent reasons for casting their votes for certain candidates.

Christmas Gift Ideas

COLORFUL SCARFS

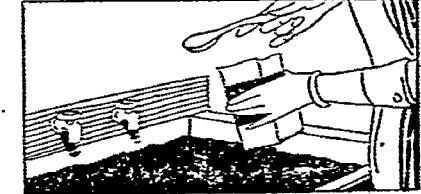

Scarves are so fashionable this season they naturally suggest themselves for Christmas gifts. This one, sketched in cloth of gold, lined with flame-colored chiffon and beaded in flame-colored beads. It is about twelve inches wide and about two yards long and is cut perfectly straight.

It would be beautiful in printed silk or velvet or in any number of interesting color combinations. With the fashionable simple frocks these scarves are most effective.

Household Suggestions

LIGHT STOCKINGS

When washing light colored stockings add a tablespoonful of borax to the water. This removes stains made by the shoes.

GREEN VEGETABLES

Never have green vegetables lying in cold water more than a half hour before they are to be cooked.

KEEP FOR SOUP

Take the odd ends of salt pork and bacon that are left over, slicing and add them to peas or beans for soup.

CLEAR GLASSES

Moisten the tips of the fingers and then rub them over a cake of soap, rub the lens of your glasses and then polish as usual. This will prevent the moisture, which gathers upon glasses when one comes from a cold into a warm atmosphere.

INSOMNIA CURE

If you find it difficult to sleep, wet a cloth in cold water, lay it on the back of the neck and fold a towel smoothly over it.

Borax Will Help Stiffen Clothes

To impart a new-like stiffness to the material of a garment, add a little borax to the last rinsing water and iron while damp. This is especially good with organdy.

Press the hems of your table napkins by running them through a hemmer on your machine without the needle threaded. This aids greatly in hand-hemming.

If the hemstitching wears out on your bed-linen, buy a piece of feather-stitched braid. Sew over hemstitching. This makes a neat appearance and looks like hand-work.

When children wear holes in the knees of their white stockings, cut them off below the holes. Crochet an edging around the top, run a colored ribbon through, and tie in a dainty bow. They make very pretty socks.

When your beads are unstrung, take a piece of corrugated paper and lay beads out according to size; then restring with heavy dental floss and knot thread before beginning.—From the Designer Magazine.

WORKERS' LEGACY

Woman Continues Thrift Work Started By Late J. H. Patterson

Dayton, O. — One of the greatest business men in the country educated a woman to carry on his work.

The man was the late John H. Patterson of National Cash Register fame, and the woman is his niece, Mrs. Edith McCure Patterson.

At the height of his career, explains Mrs. Patterson, her uncle's chief interest lay in instilling thrift among his workers and their families. "Probing below the surface for the real key to the evidences of unsound health, worry and unhappiness," Mrs. Patterson explains, "he found the trouble usually lay in the home. Unwieldy living, inefficient spending methods and undue ex-

Put Food Money Where It Will Purchase Most

It is not too soon for the home manager to start planning the next year's food supply, and to look into the various phases of family expenditures and activities.

In the established home, the buying of food comes first in importance in the matter of expense analysis, as a large portion of the average income is spent for food. As in financial circles we must put the main force of our capital where it will earn the most, in arranging our individual budgets we readily see that it is not how much income we have but what we do with it that counts.

There are so many excellent suggestions for making a household budget, in national women's magazines, and in bulletins issued by the state colleges and university Home Economics departments, that every home manager should be able to secure a budget which is flexible enough to be made to fit the needs of her family. Of course, to establish and maintain such a budget the entire family must cooperate. System is the great promoter of good housekeeping.

Real economy in food buying lies in buying good quality, every bit of which will be eaten and enjoyed, and the one big thing to remember in stocking your pantry shelves is to buy only foods which you know will be satisfactory. Brand names are the surest guide in food buying and the home manager who chooses a dependable brand name food is always the winner in the long run.

The up-to-date home manager who is far-sighted and open minded, reads and studies all about the best buys on the food market, adding to her knowledge about her own business as well as saving much time and money. A summer months she will stock her pantry with fruits and vegetables, canning them as they come; season that if she can obtain these fresh foods at a reasonable cost or has her own fruit trees. However, during the last few years, especially in the larger cities where the housewife, in order to secure fruits, etc. for canning, must not only pay the farmer's price, the cost, but a portion of his food supply.

VEGETABLES

The vegetables of late autumn are preferable to canned summer ones or shipped-out-of-season delicacies. Parsnips and carrots, rutabagas and squash add color and beauty to the dinner table.

You will enjoy serving parsnip fritters and the guests will enjoy eating them.

Carrot straws are almost too good to be true.

And sweet potato apples will go "right to the spot."

PARSNIP FRITTERS

Six parsnips, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 3 tablespoons butter, cracker crumbs, 1 egg.

Boil parsnips in slightly salted boiling water until tender. Peel into cold water and slip skins. Mash and season with salt, pepper, sugar and butter. Make into small flat cakes. Roll in cracker crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with two tablespoons cold water, roll again in crumbs and fry in a spider in butter and bacon fat until a delicate brown.

CARROT STRAWS

Four medium sized carrots, 4 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup cream, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons minced fresh mint leaves, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 egg.

Wash and scrape carrots. Cut in narrow strips. Drop into boiling salted water and boil 15 minutes. Drain and put in top of double boiler. Add butter, sugar, cream, grated rind and juice of lemon and mint leaves. Cook until soft. Beat egg slightly and stir into mixture as it is removed from hot water.

SQUASH CROQUETTES

Cut squash in halves and scrape out seeds. Bake. Scoop out of shell and mash. There should be two cups. Add one cup milk, one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar, two tablespoons butter, two eggs, one cup nut meats coarsely chopped and one-half teaspoon paprika. The eggs should be well beaten. If too moist to handle add fine cracker crumbs and let stand until firm. Shape into balls, roll in cracker crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with two tablespoons water, roll again in crumbs and fry in deep hot fat. Drain on brown paper.

SWEET POTATO APPLES

Six sweet potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 cup boiling water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons cider or grape juice, 16 cloves.

Wash and cook sweet potatoes until tender. Remove skins and mash with butter, salt and pepper. Cool form into balls and stick a clove in opposite ends. Melt sugar in an iron spider, add boiling water, lemon juice, cider or grape juice and cook until a smooth syrup is formed. The melted sugar will become firm. Shape into balls, add, but these lumps will dissolve. Arrange apples in a baking dish, pour over syrup and bake in a moderate oven until the syrup is thick and the apples glazed and a delicate brown. Serve in baking dish.

Here Are Ways To Make Things Into Furniture

To lighten a dark room by cutting a square or oblong opening into an adjoining sunny room and filling the space with plain, frosted or colored glass? It then may be treated as a window, using very sheer curtains on each side. On a ledge or shelf built just below this window place some decorative object to increase the suggestion of sunlight.

That you can make a window-seat out of two kitchen chairs by extending a board the width of the seat across the two chairs? Pad well and cover with cretonne. Use roll pillows at the end. A board extended from the lower rungs makes a shelf for books.

That you can make a useful dressing table by placing small bedside tables either side of a long mirror? They can be painted any color to match the rest of the room.

To convert an oak hat-rack into a floor-lamp by removing the pegs, sandpapering the wood and finishing with mahogany varnish? Wire for two bulbs. Make the supports for a shade by taking three stout wires of the same length and flattening them at the ends which attach to the pole with screws.

That a mirror hung above a box out to fit the bottom of it makes an effective flower-box—From the Designer Magazine.

STAGE SET FOR BOUT OF MIDDLEWEIGHT STARS

Joe Quinn And Devine
Arrive In Appleton
For Tuesday's Fight

St. Paul Fighter Will Have Hands Full To Stop Chicago
Scott; Boya In Fine Shape To Trim Church

BOWLING

THE CARD
"Gunner" Joe Quinn, St. Paul vs.
Bob Devine, Chicago, middleweights,
10 rounds.

Dick Boya, Appleton, vs. Young Church, Green Bay, 6 rounds at 135
pounds.

Earl Rogers, Appleton, vs. Micky
Mack, Appleton, 6 rounds at 130
pounds.

"Washie" Hendricks, Kaukauna, vs.
Tommy Burns, Appleton, 6 rounds at 150 pounds.

All of the bouts on Tuesday's card at Armory G. have aroused a great deal of interest, but the Quinn-Devine battle leads by a wide margin.

The reputation of both fighters has been firmly established, and is sufficient to convince the public that their meeting will be the classic engagement seen here in a long time.

Devine fought under a disadvantage in the last bout, as he was forced to spend several hours in the sweat room before stepping into the ring in order to get down to Quinn's weight.

This time he comes fully prepared and in the best of condition. His strong boxing was the Gunner last month.
This time Quinn will have to look to his laurels more strenuously than ever before, for the wily Scotman is willing to take two in order to land
one, and even the Gunner's short arm, lightning jabs failed to put him out in his weakened condition.

BOYA BATTLES CHURCH
Next in importance in the area of local boxing is the Church-Boya bout. Church won the admiration of the fans in his July 4 engagement here for his clever fighting and ability to take a lot of heavy swings all over his anatomy, but when he fouled
the local boy twice after being warned, and thereby lost the fight he also lost whatever friends he may have had here. Now that is hardly a fan in Appleton who isn't backing Boya to the limit in their return match. If Boya succeeds in putting the Green Bay man to sleep, he will be the hero of the evening, and according to the way he's showing up against his sparring partners, he has the best chance in the world of trimming the chesty Bayman.

ROGERS SEEKS REVENGE
Micky Mack and Earl Rogers, who have squared a circle for the first time in their last month's battle, meet again to settle their grudge in six rounds. Both have been training faithfully since Mack put Rogers to sleep, and their bout is expected to furnish plenty of excitement. Both boys are husky for their weight and not afraid to take a chance in order to land where it will hurt most. They will be in better condition to last through six rounds this time than they were in their previous fight, and have learned a lot about the game
since that event.

The opener will bring together
"Washie" Hendricks, a pupil of the Kaukauna, Sheik from the Electric city, and Tommy Burns of this city.
Hendricks' nose is in bad shape, but otherwise he has never been in better condition. While showing his pride how it's done, Jack Zwick slipped over a haymaker to "Washie's" unprotected proboscis, and quick to see his advantage, handed the luckless youngster several more on the same spot. Consequently Hendricks' nose is out of joint so to speak, and he has difficulty in breathing. He has been under treatment with a local specialist for a week, and will be in fairly good condition Tuesday night. Hendricks is as game as they come, and the Kaukauna fans who have watched him work out with Zwick have nothing but praise for him. It is very probable that Zwick will be in "Washie's" corner. The Sheik knows the game, and his advice will be of great value to his pupil.

All the bouts will be examined and weighed in by Dr. D. J. O'Connor at 3 o'clock on the day of the fights.
Dauber Yaeger, Fond du Lac, will be the third man in the ring, and Fred Bushey will hold the stop watch. The preliminaries start promptly at 5:30

PACKERS HUMBLE MILWAUKEE TEAM; COP STATE TITLE

Buck And Lambeau Star As Green Bay Pros Defeat
Milwaukee Team

Milwaukee — Curley Lambeau and Howard (Cub) Buck led the Green Bay Packers' football eleven to a 10 to 7 victory over Jimmy Conzelmann and his Milwaukee Badgers' aggregation in their pro league combat at Athletic park on Sunday before a gathering of about 5,000 fans.

Buck's drop kick in the opening period and Lambeau's intercept of a forward pass from Mathys, which netted a touchdown in the third period enabled the Bay outfit to register a sufficient number of points to win.

Milwaukee, resorting to open field play during the latter stages of the combat, was stopped short by the intruders. Conzelmann's efforts to complete forward passes were nullified, practically throughout, the Green Bay men breaking through and throwing him down time and again before he had a chance to release the pigskin.

CINCH STATE TITLE
The victory clinched the Wisconsin state professional football championship for the Green Bay eleven. Con-zelmann, who has been one of Milwaukee's outstanding stars, had a difficult time of it on Sunday. The Packers broke through time and again and stopped him up short. During the first half the Badgers' defense was ragged.

They ripped the Green Bay line to shreds in the second period to score their lone touchdown. The second half was played in Green Bay territory, practically throughout. The Badgers resorted to open field play most of the time but the Packers, trained to stop the locals, cut through the line time and again and checked Con-zelmann before he had a chance to get the ball away.

GRID YEAR ENDS WITH 10-0 DEFEAT

Kaukauna—The high school football team's season ended Saturday when Coach W. F. McGrath's youngsters were defeated, 10 to 0, in a hard fought game with East DePere at De-
ho. Kaukauna played a better game than usual and did good work in holding the DePere outfit to 10 markers. The home team scored early in the first quarter on a drop kick against the wind from the 40 yard line. Late in the second quarter they seped their only touchdown after blocking Kaukauna's punt of the Electric City's eight yard line. In the second half the high school boys held their own but were unable to gain consistently enough to score.

Three Western Conference
Teams Remain Undefeated
After Saturday

By Associated Press
Chicago—Three western conference teams, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, are undefeated Monday as they enter the final week of big ten football. Saturday's games will determine which of this group is to be accepted as the conference title holder for 1923. Illinois, who easily defeated the Mississippi Aggies on Saturday, plays the often defeated Ohio team at Columbus, Michigan and Minnesota clash at Ann Arbor in the feature contest of the day.

The Minnesota-Michigan game holds the greatest doubt. The Gophers by defeating Iowa on Saturday, 20 to 7, displayed a strength that was unexpected, while Michigan could only beat the Wisconsin team, 6 to 3, in a game which they were outplayed a good share of the time.

In the Minnesota-Iowa game, the Gophers' attack baffled Iowa and brought a decisive victory for the Northmen. They displayed their claims for conference title aspirations by running around the Hawkeyes on the offense, with Captain Martineau featuring. His running and kicking did much to give Minnesota its victory.
Iowa got one touchdown to three for Minnesota.

LONG RUNS FEATURE
Chicago won from Ohio in a game which specialized in long runs. After getting off to an early start with 3 points to the good, the Buckeyes weakened and Chicago gathered two touchdowns and a field goal for 17 points.
The Ohio line was weak. Neutralizing
the stellar work of their backfield, John Thomas showed himself the Chicago star by his running. At one time he played through the whole Ohio team for a touchdown.

Northwestern kept its place in the Big Ten cellar when defeated by Purdue, 6 to 3.

Michigan and Wisconsin furnished
the feature contest of last Saturday in their clash at Madison. The Wolverines came out with the long end of a 6 to 3 score, after Rockwell, their substitute center, on returning a punt, was twice knocked down by Badger players and regained his feet to race 55 yards for a touchdown with Wisconsin men looking on. They contended that the Michigan man had been tackled and the ball made dead.
After a consultation of officials, they ruled that Rockwell had at all times kept the play moving and that Michigan was entitled to the touchdown.

This shattered the hope of Wisconsin which had been raised during the first quarter when Below kicked a goal from placement.

Although unwilling to express themselves on the decision of the referee, Wisconsin officials are reported to have decided that they would not protest the verdict that deprived them
of a victory.

Colgate's Victory Over Syracuse
Was Outstanding
Surprise

New York—As a contributor of up-sets the penultimate Saturday of the current gridiron season stands alone unexcelled, unapproached by any of the 1923 campaign.

Out of clear sky came the Colgate tempest which swept twice across the hitherto victorious Syracuse record with a 16 to 7 defeat.

Out of the same calm came the Pittsburg tornado which left the hitherto undefeated Washington and Jefferson team the flattened recipient of a 13 to 6 trouncing.

Nor was football fandom at all prepared for Brown's 20 to 7 defeat of

of New York university, Penn State's 21 to 0 victory over Pennsylvania, nor trouncing of Princeton.

Yale was the general favorite and a victorious margin of 27 points, a margin greater than all but one in the fifty years of Yale-Princeton football relations, exceeded by many points the forecast of the most daring of football experts.

The Syracuse and Pittsburg occurrences served to reduce the list of undefeated eastern elevens to three—Cornell, Yale and West Virginia.

Yale's victory stamped the team as

ilton players killed off many Syracuse attacks through their ability to intercept Syracuse aerials, and then effective use of the same offensive.

Washington and Jefferson had visions of an easy victory over Pittsburg when early in the game a blocked punt was recovered and carried to a Washington and Jefferson

DARTMOUTH SHOWS STRENGTH
To what extent Brown's victory over Harvard was due to the absence of regulars from the Crimson lineup is not known but those who witnessed the contest seem to agree that the Bruin eleven showed sufficient strength on Saturday to have won from the best team Harvard could have put on.

Dartmouth, which rolled up 62 points on Colby, and Rutgers, which scored 61 on Boston university, proved the high scoring teams of the day.
Cornell, with 5 points, Lafayette, with 45 against Dayton, Boston college with 41 against Villa Nova,
and Holy Cross, with 46 against Springfield followed in the order named.

The championship of the "Little Three" series went to Williams when the Purple defeated President Cool-idge's alma mater, Amherst, 23 to 7.

FIGHTING APPLETON SQUAD BOWS TO BAYMEN, 39 TO 0

Weight And Experience Give East Green Bay Big Edge On Wilson's Team

Orange Eleven Reaches Invaders' 10 Yard Line But Is Unable To Score Against Heavier Veterans

East Green Bay Saturday afternoon took the Appleton high school eleven into camp, 39 to 0, on Lawrence grid here, and thereby won the championship of the valley high school conference. The Baymen outwitted the local youngsters by a big margin, and their greater experience and weight showed from the start of the game. The Orange squad threatened several times when it reached the Green Bay 20, 15 and even 10 yard line, but was unable to carry the ball across. The local eleven's aerial tactics were spoiled by Binnish, husky East Green Bay right tackle, who broke through and blocked them almost at will. Naumann, Bunkers and Binnish, the visitors, every one of whom played an excellent game. Stammer, an Appleton substitute who started at left half, played a brilliant game, with Baehne and Bowby running from the Menasha alleys, and two close seconds. The local youngsters carried out the orders of Coach David Wilson to keep fighting every minute, but were overwhelmed by the greater experience and weight of the invaders.

FIRST PERIOD

After Green Bay had returned Courtney's kickoff for 10 yards to its own 35 yard line, a succession of short gains brought the playmen to the Green Bay 45 yard line, from where Boerschinger punted over the Appleton goal line, and it was Appleton's ball on its own 20 yard line. After several downs had failed to bring much yardage, Courtney attempted a punt which was blocked by Binnish, and Green Bay got the ball on the Appleton 9 yard line. Engels attempted to carry it over on the next play but fumbled when he reached the 2 yard line, where Eller recovered the ball. Binnish again broke through in time to block Courtney's attempt to kick out of danger, knocking the ball out of bounds behind the Appleton goal line, where Naumann fell on it and scored the first touchdown.

Boerschinger's placekick for goal was blocked. On the next kickoff Appleton was penalized 5 yards for offense, and the next attempt carried the ball to the Baymen's 40 yard line, from where Binnish returned it for 5 yards. Boerschinger punted to the Appleton 25 yard line after Green Bay had made slight gains on the next three downs and had been penalized 5 yards for offense, and Stammer returned 10 yards. After a rapid exchange of punts and several yard gains by either side, the playmen were back to 10 yards and a 20 yard run by Naumann carried the ball to the Appleton 5 yard line and Naumann plunged through center and over the line. Boerschinger's placekick sailed wide of the goalposts.

During the rest of the period, the Appleton players tried hard to stage a recovery. Boerschinger punted to the Appleton 35 yard line shortly after the kickoff when Green Bay had been held for 3 plays with but slight gains, and a succession of dives over center by Stammer, and a 30 yard run by him brought the ball to the East Green Bay 25 yard line. Another smash through left guard by Baehne carried him to the Baymen's 15 yard line when the period ended.

SECOND PERIOD

Eller attempted a placekick after short gains had been made on the next three plays, but missed his mark, and Green Bay got the ball on the Appleton 20 yard line. An exchange of punts carried the ball from one end of the field to the other several times, when Engels caught the ball on his own 15 yard line and returned it 10 yards through center. The Appleton squad tightened its defense, and after Green Bay had failed to gain more ground on the next three downs, Boerschinger punted to Baehne on the Appleton 35 yard line. Naumann caught Courtney's punt on the 50 yard line and returned 15 yards. Zuidmuller's 15 yard run around right end and a number of gains by him and Naumann brought the Baymen to the Appleton 6 yard line from where Naumann plunged over for the third touchdown. Boerschinger's placekick for goal was unsuccessful.

Gains of from 10 to 25 yards by Calahan, Zuidmuller and Naumann immediately after the kickoff carried the Baymen to the Appleton 20 yard line, where they fumbled and Bowby recovered the ball. A pass, Stammer to Bowby was good for 20 yards, but several succeeding ones from Stammer to Hillman were incomplete and Courtney punted to the Green Bay 12 yard line. Baehne recovered the ball on a Green Bay fumble, and the half ended with Appleton on the ball on the Green Bay 15 yard line, with the score 18 to 0 in East Green Bay's favor.

THIRD PERIOD

Eller returned the kickoff to his own 35 yard line, where Appleton was held for two downs and Courtney punted to the center of the field. A 20 yard end run by Bunker and gains by Naumann and Engels took the Baymen within a few inches of the Appleton goal line, and Roy carried the ball across. Bunker placekicked for the extra point. Eller, Baehne and Stammer bucked the Green Bay line, and heavy gains during the remainder of the period and Appleton had the ball on the Green Bay 10 yard line when the quarter ended. After Stammer had made another small gain, a pass from Stammer to Bowby, who was behind the Green Bay goal line was incomplete, and it was the Baymen's ball on their own 20 yard line. Bunker punted

LEGION CRUSHES LA CROSSE, 25-3, IN SNAPPY BATTLE

Westerners Dazzle Winners With Sharp Attack In Dying Minutes Of Game

Kaukauna—The return of Coach W. F. Ashe, after being absent from the last few games instilled renewed pep into the local American legion team Sunday afternoon and the Wisconsin amateur champs walked off with another victory, beating LaCrosse in an interesting battle 25 to 3. It was a fast game played in record time, only four short interruptions being made because of injuries. The visitors were held in subjection during the entire first three quarters. They were unable to make their yards through the legion's stone wall but tore off several pretty and runs that netted good gains. Kaukauna scored early in the first period when a LaCrosse punt was blocked near the goal line. Mertes dropped kicked over the goal for the extra point.

The legion scored again just as the first quarter ended after pushing down the field on line plunges and end runs. Metz and Brenzel, Kaukauna's star ends, were in the thick of the battle. The two were conspicuous in tackling and in passing off the yardage on long end runs. End runs by backfield men also netted much larger gains than plunges through the line. The visiting aggregation was light but made up for lack of weight by its speed. In the last quarter the opponents uncorked a burst of speed that took the legion off its feet. LaCrosse's left halfback plunged through Kaukauna's line time and again for long gains. Their first march toward a touchdown was halted on the local's 20 yard line but a drop kick from the 25 yard line went straight as an arrow between the uprights for the visitor's only score.

After the score Kaukauna elected to kickoff and the visitors again tore up the field making 10 and 15 yards on a plunge. They carried the ball to the 10 yard line where the game ended, preventing a touchdown. Referee Bill Smith was not called upon once to exact a penalty against either team.

The legion scored two more touchdowns in the second half by straight football. Engerson, Reardon, Ott and Shrader filled the backfield positions, all making a good showing. McMorrow gashed his face badly early in the battle and was taken out. "Ears" Engerson and Ott also were replaced later in the game.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

LEARN CONDITION OF SOIL AT SMALL COST

State Agricultural Department Ready To Make Soil Analyses

Farmers in Outagamie-co who feel their farms are not yielding as much as they should can obtain expert advice on the condition of their soils from the University of Wisconsin. It is explained in information from Madison. Reliable analysis of farm soils and advice on proper cropping can be obtained from the university at nominal cost, according to R. P. Bartholomew of the soils department of the Wisconsin college of agriculture.

Mr. Bartholomew explained that the cost of a soil analysis for a farmer is $10 for 50 acres and $1 additional for each 40 acres. Through another provision, five farmers may club together and secure the service at even a more advantageous cost. Under the latter system, each pays $5 for his first 50 acres and an additional dollar for each additional 40 acres.

Bartholomew explained that a man is sent to the farm where he takes soil samples of the fields. He then secures all the data he can on the cropping system in past years, and after making analyses for the nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium content of the soils, and determining the degree of acidity, he holds a conference with the farmer or farmers.

During the past year 55 farmers took advantage of the group system, he said. Application blanks for the analysis may be secured by addressing the Soils Department, Wisconsin College of Agriculture, Madison.

APPLETON GIRL WINS HONORS FOR ACTIVITY

Miss Florence Torrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Torrey, 470 El-Goradost and social chairman of last year's freshman commission at Lawrence, has been chosen to have her name engraved on the cup belonging to the commission as the most successful and active chairman of the organization. The committee to select the winner of this honor consisted of Mrs. Samuel Plantz, Dr. Frances Foster and Dean Mary Louise Brown.

Frank Tretlen and sons Walter and Harry returned Saturday from northern Wisconsin where they spent several days hunting deer.

sliding up to a freshman boy in a blue and gold sweater. That evening when the A. P. was asked by her husband to tell him something about the game, she said she now realizes what it means to break through the proverbial enemy lines.

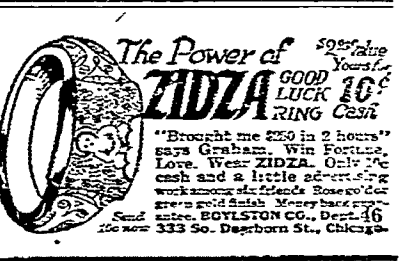

"Devil Fish" Found In Fox At Green Bay

"Devil fish" are inhabiting the waters of the Fox river, so it would appear from the discovery of three such specimens at Green Bay a few days ago. The creatures were found by David Younk, a bridge tender of that city, under a tin can near the shore. They intertwined by their tentacles which were a foot to one and half feet long. The body itself was about the size of a man's hand. The tentacles on the under side have a continuous row of cups or "suckers" about a quarter inch in diameter. The skin of the creature is black streaked with deep red. The bridge tender believes that these are the first devil fish ever found in the Fox river. They are believed to be related to the giant octopus which for ages has been one of the terrors of the seas, especially to the ignorant and superstitious. Legends relate how divers have been drowned and ships wrecked by the monster that held them in its grasp. This sinister reputation, together with the repulsive appearance, is responsible for the nickname of "devil fish."

NEW SELECTIONS WIN FAVOR HERE

Although "Last Night on the Back Porch" is not as popular among records as it has been the last few weeks, it still leads the list of most popular numbers. Several new pieces have made their appearance and are rapidly coming to the front, but can hardly be classed as best sellers yet. Among these are "Cuddle-Uddle Up," "I Love You" and "Big Blonde Mama." "I Love You" and "Big Blonde Mama," a waltz song, is another new record that is fast gaining favor. The five most popular pieces at local stores last week are somewhat varied.

LETTER FROM MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON TO MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT

MY DEAR MRS. PRESCOTT:

I think I should have written you before this, but no doubt your son has kept you posted and you know how dreadfully ill Leslie has been.

She is still far from well and we are very much worried over her mind. She seems to have developed almost a case of melancholia. She pays no attention to anything or anybody, not even poor Jack, who seems broken-hearted. He has grown very thin, and I do wish that I could persuade him to go away for a little while.

However, he would not leave Leslie for anything. I am sure. He comes in when she is asleep and sits beside her bed, her hand in his, for hours at a time. But just the moment she stirs as though she were going to awake he steals away, as though he is afraid that ever his presence worries her.

Jack has probably told you that Leslie lost her baby after the accident. The poor child had not told Jack anything about her great expectation as she seemed to have got it into her head that she would not be pleased. She kept the wonderful secret to herself, and consequently, since the automobile accident, she has never asked Jack anything about it.

I wish she would do so. It would be such a comfort to her. I know, to have her husband take her in his arms and tell her how sorry he is for her. They seem, both of them, to be laboring under a great deal of misapprehension. You and I, my dear Mrs. Prescott, know that the nearer one can come to sharing all one's secrets with one's husband or wife, the better both can reach greater happiness.

Jack has told me you have been quite ill. I am very sorry, and I am writing this letter so you will not think I am quite a savage in not asking about your health before, but I have been so concerned over my daughter and so busy trying to minister to her mind, as well as to her body, that I have thought of little else.

Jack told me you met Karl Whitney at your house while Leslie was there. Perhaps you will be interested to know that he has gone abroad to London, where my second daughter, Alice is staying with the Stoklers. You, I am sure, will remember Alice as a typical American girl. The letters she writes me are most diverting, the last one particularly so. Ordinarily Leslie would be much interested, and pleased with them, but the last one which I received from Alice did not awaken a smile from her.

Jack and I have come to the decision today that tomorrow I shall go and find a healthy young baby and bring it to Leslie. If she shows the slightest inclination for it, Jack will adopt it. Dr. Samson seems to think this is the only thing that will do her any good. He says if something is not done very soon to awaken her mind to things about her, he fears for her life. If not her sanity. You can see, of course, we are very much worried.

I will write you immediately after Leslie has seen the baby and let you know how she takes it.

Most sincerely yours,
ALICE CARTON HAMILTON.
Telegram from Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott to John Alden Prescott.

Do not, I beg of you, adopt a baby until you hear from me.

YOUR MOTHER,
TOMORROW—Betsy Stokley gets a letter from Mrs. Hamilton—Leslie's silence.

Adventures Of The Twins

One day Farmer Brown came along with a sickle in his hand.

"I'll have to cut down all these burdock," he said to himself, and set loud enough for a hundred miles ears to hear. "They aren't a bit of good in the world and when they get to seed they'll spread next year more than ever." Or, again, "My time's gone out and I'll have to go back to the house for some matches. I'll just leave this sickle here until I come back."

Under the burdock, the tiny Pee Wee Landers were too dismayed to say a word. "If the burdock were cut down where would Pee Wee Land be?"

"What shall we do?" cried King Snookums.

"Yes, what shall we do, indeed?" repeated Mister Croger.

And every Pee Wee Lander looked at his neighbor and said miserably: "What on earth are we going to do?"

Nancy and Nick stared at one another, saying a word but thinking a great deal. They would have to help their little brother, there wasn't a doubt. Sudden! Nick's eyes were fixed on Farmer Brown's sickle, and where he had left it, and he was perched something to Nancy.

And then the Twins said some thing to King Snookums.

"But how can you?" said the king in surprise. "You aren't any bigger than the rest of us."

"Why, we're as big as anything," laughed Nick. "We are only a little when we are with you, like you. It's our magic eyes, you know. We can wish ourselves any size at all."

"Show me," commanded King Snookums.

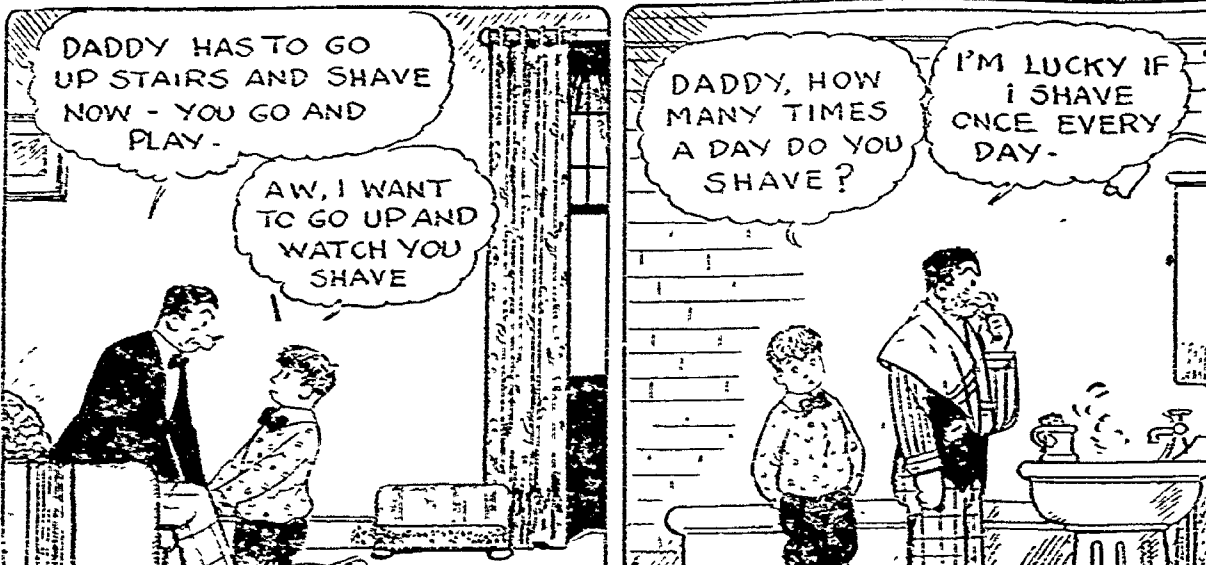

Instantly the Twins were their own size, like any other little boy or girl.

"Oh goodness!" gasped Snookums.

CAPITAL DECIDES
RISE OF RUSSIA,
HASKELL BELIEVES

Army Colonel Returns To U. S.
After Handling Biggest Relief Job Known

By Associated Press
Moscow—Watch Colonel Haskell. America will hear from him; he's one of her biggest men.

That's what you hear in Russia, where millions of people think Colonel William N. Haskell is the greatest man in the world. He is on his way home after completing "the biggest relief job in history. Haskell, as head of the American Relief Administration, fed 10,000,000 people a meal a day.

Now he is returning home simply as a colonel of the army. Yet at 43 his name is known throughout Europe for his work as chief of operations of the Second United States Army in France, director of American relief in Russia, allied high commissioner for Armenia, director of relief in Russia, and European commissioner of the American Red Cross.

Haskell sees Russia, now recovered from famine, as a nation with possibilities second only to the United States.

"Russia has to be a great, important nation some day," he says. "I'd like to see it in my lifetime—but I won't unless foreign capital gets busy quickly, and of course foreign capital can't come in while the Soviet government takes its present position on foreign trade."

This is the picture of Russia that Haskell sees now: "There is no famine. There is suffering due largely to poverty, unemployment and the dislocation of life inevitable after war, revolution and starvation. But this suffering will not end until normal conditions are restored and Russia's trade revived sufficiently to permit her people to acquire what they need for the ordinary purposes of life."

Here's a tip he gives, perhaps for business men and diplomats as well: "Russians are a very difficult people to understand. Usually it takes from two to three years to get on to their mentality. You must know where their heads are when you're talking to them. Buying them all the time won't get you anywhere. Besides, you make bad friends. It's much easier to do business, anyway, when you make good friends."

Dual Monetary System Prevails
In Communist State
At Present

By Associated Press
Moscow—Russia is gradually working into a new monetary system, based upon actual values in gold or negotiable securities, which promises soon to eliminate the billions of paper rubles now flooding the country.

At the present time a dual monetary system prevails, the one based upon the new standard, the other upon paper emission.

CHICAGO CHEMIST FINDS METHOD TO DIVIDE ELEMENTS

Experiments Of Savant Expected To Revolutionize Science

By Associated Press

Chicago—Two chemical elements hitherto considered indivisible have been separated by Dr. William D. Harkins, professor of physical chemistry at the University of Chicago, whose experiments in this field are expected to revolutionize the chemical theory of a century.

Dr. Harkins explained how he tried to separate chlorine, the greenish yellow gas used by the Germans when they first introduced chemical warfare. Chlorine has long been considered one of the 90 odd elements, like carbon, oxygen and hydrogen, which have defied all attempts at division. These so-called elements are present in the earth and in the sun.

"For five years we worked," he said. "We tried all sorts of apparatus and used more than a ton of hydrogen chloride before we succeeded. The gas was diffused through stems of church warden pipes. These pipes are made of white clay and have stems between 18 and 24 inches long. The lighter parts of the gas passed outward through the stems. The heavier parts remained, and thus we discovered that our so-called element, chlorine, could be separated and another time-honored theory had surrendered. Virtually all physicians and chemists in the United States have accepted the results."

Dr. Harkins then demonstrated that mercury, also considered a fundamental substance, can be broken up. Like the chlorine twins, the parts of mercury look alike but are vastly different in weight, he explains. Dr. Harkins is performing similar experiments with zinc and cadmium to see if they too are mixtures instead of elements.

"These experiments indicate, then, that there probably is only one fundamental element instead of the 90 we have been pinning our faith on all these years," Dr. Harkins said. "That basic element is hydrogen, and, according to my theory, all the so-called elements are compounds of helium with hydrogen. But since helium itself is built up from hydrogen, then all the elements are inatomic compounds of hydrogen."

DEATHS

PETER J. PETERS

Peter J. Peters, 91, pioneer of Calumet-co, father of the Rev. F. J. Peters, pastor of St. Nicholas church, Freeborn, died Friday in a Green Bay hospital. The funeral will be held at St. Francis church, West Holland, Tuesday morning. Mr. Peters had lived in the town of Woodville, Calumet-co, for 60 years.

The aged man was born in Holland in 1832 and came to America in 1855, settling in Woodville. After a 60 years residence on a farm he moved to Little Chute where he lived until the death of Mrs. Peters in 1918. Since then he made his home with his son, the Rev. F. J. Peters at Freeborn. Eight children, fifty-seven grandchildren and forty-five great-grandchildren survive. It is said there is not a city or hamlet in the Fox river valley which does not contain one or more descendants of the pioneer. The surviving children are John, Arnold, William, and George Peters and Mrs. Minnie Huiting Peters, Sheridan-co, Neb.; The Rev. F. J. Peters, Freeborn; Albert and Joseph Peters, Rudolph, Wis.

Mr. Peters was assessor for the town of Woodville for 36 years. Miss Margaret Carlisle who will be heard here at Memorial Chapel Tuesday evening November 20th upon the occasion of the Lucchese-Ringling joint recital has won distinction among the prominent pianists of the day as a soloist of pre-eminence possessing musicianship, a command of technique, and a power truly remarkable. She is an American born girl having received all her training in the city of Chicago. As a soloist, her first recital was given at the age of twelve. At twenty years of age she was supervisor of music in Orlando, Florida, and it was there she met and played for a number of opera singers who encouraged her to devote her time and talents to accompanying, which she did, becoming assistant conductor of the Chicago Opera Association. At various times she has toured with Florence MacBeth, Paul Althouse, Myrna Sharlow, Robert Ringling, Marguerite Namara, Arthur Hackett and other singers, contributing artistic support of a very admirable nature at their concerts.

At such a musical event as is fore-shadowed by a Lucchese-Ringling recital, her art, enhanced by a striking personality, unusual beauty and charm of manner contributes greatly to the artistic ensemble, and fortunate indeed are the singers privileged in having her support as accompanist.
